

Introduction to Recreational Diving Wakulla Diving Center, In Medart, FL

Most people begin their adventure underwater by taking a basic SCUBA class either through a dive shop or college. Wakulla Diving Center is both in that we teach at a local community college and also offer recreational SCUBA classes to interested people or groups of people through our Crawfordville facility. Our recreational SCUBA class is 6 days long (from 8-5), configured in many forms, but here spread over three weekends. The first four days are split between morning lectures and afternoon pool sessions. The last weekend is dedicated to spring and ocean checkout dives at sites to be determined.

Students are expected to pay a fee for tuition that pays for a nationally certified diving instructor, and a fee for expense, such as books, tables, breathing gasses, equipment rental, and pool rental. Students are expected to be comfortable in the water (know how to swim), and be healthy (pass a medical history form with further medical monitoring if deemed necessary). Students are expected to provide personal skin diving technology: mask, snorkel, fins, booties, and appropriate thermal protection (such as a wet suit). Wakulla Diving Center offers competitive packages and a % discount to our students.
